

2ND INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON
THE HISTORY OF HEALTH
EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH INFRASTRUCTURE IN EUROPEAN HISTORY (19TH-21ST CENTURY)

9, 10 AND 11TH
DECEMBER 2024

PROVISIONAL PROGRAMME (CET Time)

9th December

For online participation, access the link below:

<https://videoconf-colibri.zoom.us/j/95505362407>

Opening Session

10:30-11:30

Inaugural Lecture

The Rise and Fall of the Hospital in the Fight against Infectious Disease:
Britain in a European Context 1880-1950

Keynote Speaker

Barry Doyle, University of Manchester, CA22159 Chair, UK

Chair: Isabel Amaral, Mojca Ramšak

Coffee Break

11:30-12:00

S1.

12:30-14:00

From hospices for the poor and sick, to modern hospitals: the birth and development of the medical system in Transylvania in 19th-20th centuries, Luminița Dumănescu, Babeș-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca, ROU

Nursing for the Alienated: Actors and Scenarios of Assistance in Portugal at the End of 19th Century, Analisa Candeias, School of Nursing, University of Minho, PT

The construction of the Lisbon and Porto school hospitals: from design to construction, Alexandra Esteves, Maria João, University of Minho, Lab2PT, IN2PAST, PT

Identity and Community: Health Experiences in East Timor (21st Century), Amélia Ferreira, Faculty of Health Science and Nursing -UCP, PT

Chair: Neslihan Önder Özdemir/Renato Gama-Rosa

Free Lunch

S2.

15:00-17:00

Preventing cholera outbreaks: the infrastructure for maritime quarantine in 19th century Sweden, Helene Castenbrandt, Department of Economic History, Lund university, FIN

Cholera epidemics in 19th century central Slovenia in a post-covid perspective, Katarina Keber, Babeș-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca, ROU

Slovenian folk songs as historical records of cholera outbreaks, Mojca Ramšak, University of Ljubljana, SLV

A View from the ground: insights on epidemic outbreaks and health crises using archaeoethanatology, Francisca Alves Cardoso, Anne Malcherek, Zélia Rodrigues, Steffi Vassallo, CRIA/NOVA FCSH – NOVA/IN2PAST, University of Minho, PT Chair: Bogdan Trifunović /Alexandra Esteves
Coffee Break	17:00-17:30
S3. They bury the poor dead like dogs, in a yard!" Contestation and social resistance to sanitary burial laws in Portugal (19th century), Tânia Ferreira, University of Minho, Lab2PT, IN2PAST, PT Establishment of healthcare institutions - hospital in Novi Sad in the 19th and early 20th centuries Miroslav Urosevic¹, Vladimir Sakac², Sara Cer Healthcare and Foreign Influence After the First World War: The American Mission in Serbia 1919-1922, Bogdan Trifunović, Čačak Public Library, Serbia; KreativaLab NGO, Belgrade, SRB Chair: Maria Zarifi/Katarina Keber	17:30-19:00
Visit to the Pharmacy Museum	19h00-20h00

PROGRAMME (CET Time)10th December

For online participation, access the link below:

<https://videoconf-colibri.zoom.us/j/99878345981>S4.*9:30-11:30

The role of understanding disease on public health measures. The case of smallpox and vaccination. Jaroš Krivec, University of Ljubljana, SVN

A Story of Success in Fighting Epidemics: The Smallpox Vaccination Campaign in Transylvania, 1800-1918, Daniela Marza, Center for Transylvanian Studies / Romanian Academy, Cluj-Napoca, Romania, ROU

Epidemiological understanding, combating measures and drug experiments during the 1918 outbreak in Greece, Maria Zarifi, Department of Sociology - National & Kapodistrian University of Athens, GR

The child assistance in 20th century Portugal and the role of League of Social Prophylaxis and Child Assistance in Porto, Ângela Calisto, University of Minho, Lab2PT, IN2PAST, PT

Chair: Helene Castenbrandt/Miroslav Urosevic

Coffee Break11:30-12:00*S5.*12:00-14:00

Tuberculosis sanatoriums built during the Estado Novo period: a comparative study Brazil-Portugal (1930-1945), Renato da Gama-Rosa Costa, Oswaldo Cruz Foundation, Ministry of Health, BR

Social burden of tuberculosis and the fight against the disease in Mexico: 1925-2025, Ana María Carrillo, Department of Public Health, Faculty of Medicine, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, MEX

Agenda from abroad: Tanzania's National Tuberculosis Program facing the TB and HIV coepidemic, 1976-1997 Niklas Feix, Heinrich-Heine-University-Düsseldorf, DEU

The responses of public health authorities to HIV/AIDS infection in Portugal, 1985-2000, Paula Basso, NOVA FCT, Pharmacy Museum, PT

Chair: Luminița Dumănescu/Daniela Marza

Free Lunch

S6.

Johann Csokor (1849-1911) and his role in eradication of zoonotic epidemics, Miroslav Urosevic¹, Sara Cer¹

Epidemiology and health infrastructure in Portuguese history: between Metropole and African Landscape (19th and 20th century), Isabel Amaral, NOVA FCT, CIUHCT, PT

Public health and urban reform in Rio de Janeiro: the tropical climate in circulation of knowledge networks in the Portuguese Empire, Ricardo Cabral de Freitas, Fiocruz, UFRJ, BR

15:30-17:00

Health measures needed in Bahia': the Health Stations, the Isolation Hospital and the Health Reform in Salvador (1921-1930), Chacauana Santos, Fiocruz, NOVA FCT, BR

Chair: Ana María Carrillo/Manuel Bicho

Coffee Break

17:00-17:30

WG1 General Meeting

17:30-18:30

Reflecting on outputs

Farewell Dinner

PROGRAMME (CET Time)11th December

For online participation, access the link below:

<https://videoconf-colibri.zoom.us/j/99610687035>S7. Bridging Perspectives: Challenges and opportunities for early career researchers

09:30-11:00

The importance of integrating (connecting/combining) historical knowledge in addressing global public health challenges, Célia Oliveira, Tânia Ferreira

Allocation of Resource and Priorities for Health Policies during Covid-19 Pandemic, Maria Aluas, University of Medicine and Pharmacy of Cluj-Napoca

Initiatives for those at the beginning of their academic journey, Monique Palma, CIUHCT, NOVA FCT, PT

Chair: Monique Palma

WG1 Coordination Meeting

11:00-12:00

Closing session: some concluding remarks

12:00

Free Lunch